LEGISLATURE IMPEACHES GOVERNOR WALTON

PENDING TRIAL SENATE ORDERS HIS SUSPENSION

Sustain Two Charges Preferred by Lower House

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 23.—Governor J. C. Walton was suspended from office at 6:40 P. M., when the state senate by a vote of 38 to 1 adopted a resolution temporarily relieving him of his official duties following the submission by the lower house of a bill of impeachment against him.

The impeachment bill charges the executive with entering into "a corrupt agreement" with Dr. A. E. Davenport, state health commissioner, to place T. P. Edwards, the governor's personal chauffeur, on the payroll of the health department at $200 a month; and that thereby "certain monies were diverted from the statutory object and purpose for which they were appropriated by law."

The suspension resolution was introduced by Senator W. M. Gulager of Muskogee. A committee was named to inform the governor and lieutenant governor of the action.

Lieutenant Governor Trapp is in Sapulpa, Oklahoma, and was notified by telephone.

The committee delivered their message to the governor in his office.

Immediately afterward the house transmitted Article 3, charging the governor with preventing the meeting of a grand jury that was to inquire into his official acts, and the senate accepted it also.

The senate notified the house that it would convene at any time to receive additional impeachment articles that might be adopted later by the lower body and then adjourned. The house ended its session almost at the same time.

Resolution Text
The text of the resolution suspending the governor follows:
"Whereas, The house of representatives of the Ninth Legislature pursuant to the provisions of the constitution has filed with the Senate articles of impeachment, and

"Whereas, J. C. Walton, governor of Oklahoma, is charged with offenses made grounds of impeachment by the constitution, and

"Whereas, The filing of the articles with the senate automatically suspends J. C. Walton, as governor and the office with its duties and compensations evolves upon the lieutenant governor; now therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the Senate that the governor and lieutenant governor be advised as to their duties in this event and that the secretary of the senate notify the governor and lieutenant governor of the proceedings then had and to present to each of them a copy of this resolution."

The senate will resolve itself into a court of impeachment tomorrow morning it was said.

Chief Justice J. T. Johnson of the state supreme court will preside.

Meanwhile the house is to continue consideration of the remaining 20 counts in the impeachment indictment.

Governor Quiet
Governor Walton was among the last to leave the darkened state house tonight. With a small group of friends he walked slowly down the stairway to the main floor.

"We still consider you our governor," one of the group said quietly.

The governor made no answer. Only a few lights cast isolated rays thru the long hall as the party moved toward the door. The governor halted briefly to read a copy of the senate resolution suspending him from office which a press representative handed to him.

"The vote was 38 to one for the resolution," the governor was told.

"Who voted for me?" he inquired in a low voice.

"Senator Barker."

The executive inquired about three other votes, all of which had been cast against him.

"Will you have any statement tonight, governor?" he was asked.

"Not a word," the executive replied.

POLITICAL COUNCIL HELD AT CAPITAL BY REPUBLICAN LEADERS

Finances and Other Matters Were Discussed With President

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Impetus was given political discussions in Washington today by a series of conferences held at the white house by President Coolidge. The president inquired as to the party situation in New England in conferences with Earl S. Kinsley, national committeeman from Vermont and Frank Knox, a prominent New Hampshire Republican and then went over the general situation with a number of leaders at a luncheon conference.

Participating in the luncheon discussion were John T. Adams, chairman and Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National committee; C. H. Houston, chairman of the committee's ways and means department; William K. Wrigley of Chicago who with Mr. Upham is a house guest at the white house; William C. Sproul, former governor of Pennsylvania; E. T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia; James H. Stanley of Denver; Frank W. Stearns of Boston, one of the president's leading advisers and James Davidson, Republican National Committeeman from Michigan. All of those at the luncheon were guarded later in their statements regarding the subjects discussed but it was understood that chief attention was given over to finances and methods of wiping out the deficit incurred in the 1922 campaign. Another subject understood to have been discussed was election of the 1924 convention city.

Mr. Upham has been active in behalf of Chicago but considerable attention has recently been given by some party leaders to Denver and it was learned that Mr. Stanley who is a leading attorney of Denver, pointed out to the other luncheon guests the advantages of the Colorado city.

SOCIALISTS SHOWING IMPATIENCE TOWARD STRESEMANN REGIME

Radicals Indignant Over Handling of Saxony Troubles

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Another parliamentary crisis, and one which will harbor far more serious international ramifications than that which recently carried Dr. Stresemann into office for a second time at the head of a loosely joined coalition, is an early prospect in the opinion of political leaders. Socialistic indignation against the Stresemann government's tolerance of Von Kahr, the Bavarian dictator, and the indignation of the radicals over the manner in which Saxony is being dealt with under the existing state of military law already constitute points of divergence, which threaten the Socialists' defection from the present coalition.

Among the reichstag leaders there is a feeling that Chancellor Stresemann's majority is no longer a liable asset to him in parliament and that he may find himself, without adequate support when the house reconvenes next Friday.

The government will then be called upon by the radicals to explain the apparent discrepancy whereby Saxony is overrun with reichswehr division, whereas Bavaria is permitted to flout the central government's authority at pleasure.

Von Kahr Rebellion
Dr. Von Kahr's rebellion is primarily aimed at the socialistic regime which he asserts has constantly dominated the Berlin cabinet and on this score it is not precluded that the Socialists will force the issue by withdrawing from the coalition, leaving the chancellor or President Ebert the choice of organizing a bourgeois government or dissolving the reichstag and then placing the federal authority in the hands of a dictatorship.

Beset with a score of ailments of foreign and internal origin, the Stresemann government has contented itself to drift, with numerous adversities confronting it. Its failure to halt the further collapse of the mark has incidentally also seriously handicapped its efforts to float a new currency based on a gold standard.

Along with the collapse of finances has gone the development of more serious conditions in the food situation thruout Germany which daily is assuming more menacing proportions, especially in the metropolitan centers.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McCullough and Mrs. Mary Vannier were on a shopping party from Riggston yesterday.

EXTRAVAGANCE IS CHARGED IN INVESTIGATION

Architect Paid Large Sum for Hospital Plans Not Used

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Statements somewhat sensational in character regarding the purchase of the site for and the preparation of original plans of an as yet unconstrued government tuberculosis hospital at Livermore, California, were read today into the record of the senate committee investigating the Veterans' Bureau.

Major General O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee presented a report from A. E. Grainger, chairman of the California district rehabilitation committee which said charges had been made directly to former director Charles R. Forbes, under whose administration the purchase was made that the transaction was surrounded by graft.

The report added that at the time Mr. Forbes made no denials of this or other allegations made to him by American Legion representatives. Before this report was read Brigadier General Hines director of the bureau testified that Matthew O'Brien a San Francisco architect employed under the administration of Mr. Forbes had been paid $64,000 for plans of the hospital which subsequently proved unusable. Mr. O'Brien's contract called for a fee of five per cent of the total cost of the project $1,100,000 General Hines said, and Charles Stratton of the bureau's building department told the committee that under the usual practice in the building trades that Mr. O'Brien's fees should not have exceeded $18,000 at least until a contract for construction had been let.

Mr. Forbes, who attended the opening of the hearings yesterday and several times sought to challenge statements placed in the record, was absent from the sessions today. The condition of his health is regarded as serious by his friends, who are reported to have advised him to conserve his strength until such time as he can have free opportunity to reply to the charges made concerning his administration.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 23.—Matthew O'Brien, San Francisco architect whose plans for the veterans' hospital at Livermore, Calif., and the subsequent payment for such plans are being made the subject of an investigation by a committee of the United States senate said today that he had been paid $97,000 for his work.

"My business with the veterans' bureau is closed," O'Brien said. "I have received my fee and that ends it."

"Two sets of plans were made. The second set was made after the first had been rejected by the bureau."

"I had nothing to do with the fact that the plan as finally adopted by the bureau were not put into effect."

FOG CHANGES PLANS OF WATERWAY TRIP

CHESTER, Ill., Oct. 23.—Fog interfered today with the schedule of the special senatorial committee enroute from Chicago to New Orleans holding hearings on the McCormick Deepwaterway bill. The steamer Mississippi down the Illinois and Mississippi that has carried the committee rivers from Peoria will be abandoned by Senatorial party at Cairo tonight and the remainder of the trip will be made by rail.

The rearranged schedule was made necessary when the steamer encountered a dense blanket of fog shortly after leaving St. Louis at midnight last night. This forced the boat to tie up to the bank and the fog did not lift until long after daylight this morning. The boat is due in Cairo at 8:30 P. M., under the new schedule.

He was introduced for his luncheon address by Newton B. Baker, former secretary of war, who described him as a "representative of the British people to the American people."

Another reception was arranged for Mr. Lloyd George and his party by a number of Welsh singing societies late this afternoon and this evening he was the guest

MINISTER PROPOSES TOAST TO AMERICAN AT FAREWELL DINNER

Colonel Harvey Given Great Ovation by European Statesmen

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 23.—Ambassador Harvey delivered a long farewell speech at the Pilgrims dinner tonight in which he reiterated the willingness of the United States to help assess Germany's capacity to pay reparations, reviewed the Monroe Doctrine and declared that America must and would keep aloft from the broils of Europe. He reminded his large audience which included the British prime minister Stanley Baldwin, the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes and the French, Belgian and Japanese ambassadors that the United States had long had reparations claims from Germany for the joint account of the allies and was therefore disinterested but that when America came to the door of Europe to assist in a settlement of the reparations she found the door closed.

"We are ready to promote any scheme for the economic rehabilitation of Europe," he declared. "We are ready to join in any conference which will promote the recuperation and stability of the world, but we cannot smash in the door."

Count De Sount Aulaire the French ambassador addressed the French ambassador. He said that he had been assured that billions of money lent Europe by the United States was being used to maintain greater armies than had ever before existed. Sir Auckland Geddes who was at the head table made his first public appearance since his return to England as did Lieutenant Colonel Charles Harrington, who recently withdrew the British forces from Constantinople. Others were Lord Desbrough, chairman of the Pilgrims; Premier Stanley M. Bruce, of Australia, the Earl of Derby, secretary for war, Sir Montague Barlow, minister of labor, the American consul, Robert P. Skinner and all the members of the American embassy staff: Otto Kahn, and T. P. O'Connor.

ADVANTAGE HELD BY SEPARATISTS LOSING STRENGTH

Nationalists Over Sur- prise and Holding Their Own

(By the Associated Press)
COBLENZ, Oct. 23.—The pendulum in the bitter struggle which has been raging since Sunday between the Separatists attempting to install a Rhineland republic by force of arms and nationalists, communists and certain elements of the Workmen's Unions, opposing such action, is swinging back and forth with alternate advantages to the contending sides. But to the neutral observer it appears that the Republicans have made little headway since their green, white and red emblem was first raised over Aix La Chapelle's city hall three days ago.

By capturing Duisburg and Coblenz today thus gaining their first footholds along the river Rhine, the Rhinelanders, however, were regarded as a telling blow until news was received that they had been expelled from Munch-Gladbach and other previously occupied points and that their adherents were besieged in the city hall at Aix La Chapelle with surrender imminent.

Surprise Disappears
The surprise element has disappeared from the movement and the opposition of the nationalists has crystallized and is gaining strength. The presence of French troops has been of service to the Republicans, because these troops while observing strict neutrality have proved a sort of strength to the Separatists as they only intervene when blood is shed and the letting of blood occurs only when the opponents of the Rhinelanders attempt to prevent them from occupying public buildings, as at Wiesbaden and Mayence where the police have been disarmed.

The Separatist leaders, while studiously refraining from interference with the military leaders, General DeGoutte and General Mordacq at Wiesbaden have been in constant communication with the interallied Rhineland commission here. The reply of M. Tard, president of the Rhineland commission to the emissaries from Dr. Dorton and Joseph Matthes, in which he notified the Separatists that he would hold them responsible for keeping order, in a certain quarters here as virtually amounting to recognition.

Conflicting Reports.
Late this evening conflicting reports were current relative to the occupation of Ehrenbreitstein fortress across the river. This could only be occupied by the Separatists with the permission of the French as a large number of occupation troops are stationed there. As the situation stands to night the Separatists have a precarious hold on Coblenz, they are fairly well settled in Duren and Treves, are dividing authority with French in Wiesbaden and Bonn; are solid in Hochst, in the vicinity of Bad-Ens, Mayen, and a few other villages but are losing ground at Aix La Chapelle, where street fighting is going on.

According to reports reaching here the dead at Aix La Chapelle numbered a score with sixty or seventy wounded and the Separatist garrison is on the verge of capitulating.

PAYMASTER HOLDUPS ESCAPE WITH MONEY

(By the Associated Press)
BELLEVILLE, Ill., Oct. 23.—A Ganaway, paymaster, and Walter Amba, a guard, carrying a payroll of about $14,000 from a St. Louis bank to Mine No. 1 of the Southern Coal, Coke & Mining company here, were held up by an automobile load of bandits as they sped toward a street car close to the mine this afternoon. After pointing pistols at the paymaster and guard the bandits escaped with a satchel containing the money.

According to reports to the police, the robbers apparently followed in their machine the street car, carrying the men until the men alighted in a sparsely settled section of the city near the mine. There were said to have been five or six men in the car.

The bandits sped toward East St. Louis, Ill., and St. Louis. Police of those cities were notified to watch for the approach of the bandits' automobile.

SECRETARY FALL SAYS WAS SOUND BUSINESS TO DEVELOP TEAPOT

Was Found That Underground Supply Could Not Be Kept

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Challenging the senate public lands committee before which he appeared today to find another oil company which would have accepted the Teapot Dome contract on the terms negotiated with the Sinclair interests, former Secretary Fall of the Interior Department asserted that in his judgment the lease now under investigation by the committee was highly beneficial to the government. The president he declared is charged with the preservation of an oil supply for the navy, and when it was shown by reports of geologists that the reserve's oil supply could not be kept in tact under ground it was sound business policy to provide for the field's development.

President Wilson, without awaiting an act of congress, set aside certain lands in California and Wyoming, known to contain oil as naval reserves. Mr. Fall said adding that President Harding had authority in order to provide oil for the navy to make the most advantageous contracts possible without awaiting specific authority from congress, particularly he was wise in doing so, the committee was told when he was convinced of drainage of the oil thru wells located on adjacent property.

Mr. Fall, who negotiated the Teapot Dome lease in conjunction with Secretary Denby of the navy department, declared, lawyers might differ as to his position in the matter but, he insisted, he had legal authority for his acts.

Mr. Fall said that he disagreed with the contention of Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, one of the members of the committee that the Teapot Dome contract should only have been awarded after advertisements for bids.

REGULAR TROOPS NOW HAVE GREEK OUTBREAK UNDER FULL CONTROL

Eight Hundred Prisoners Taken—Casualties Not Known

(By the Associated Press)
ATHENS, Oct. 23.—Official information shows that the government has been successful in its struggle to put down the revolt started Monday with General Metaxas as its leader.

It was not without fighting, however, that the government forces were able to break the revolt. Among the more important engagements was one near Chalcis, where one of the chief factors in the movement, Colonel Dijas and his corps, came into conflict with regular troops under General Othonaios. Of the 1,400 mutineers 800 were made prisoners. The extent of casualties in the fighting is not yet known.

Colonel Plastiras who headed the revolution which resulted in the overthrow of King Constantine said tonight that he considered the uprising in Macedonia ended and that he believed it would be broken down in a few days in Peloponessus. The Peloponessus and Corinth channel will be completely blockaded tonight by government forces.

News regarding the situation in Peloponessus is still awaited here but it is believed the rebels there still are holding out.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT KNOWN IN CHICAGO

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Clara Heilmann, 23, was possibly fatally hurt in an automobile accident near Hoopeson, Illinois last night in which C. A. Brantley of Chicago was killed and E. S. DePass of Chicago was injured. One of the young women questioned by the police here following the suicide last March of Fred W. Popp of the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank and the reorganization of the bank after his death.

After Popp's death when the officers were seeking for clues that might lead to the reason for the bank's difficulties they found June Bacon who it was charged at the time had been maintained by Popp in a sumptuously furnished bungalow. Miss Heilmann was a friend of the Bacon girl and Popp was also said to have been interested in her. Both young women denied that Popp had spent money on them, Miss Bacon declaring that Popp had handled her financial affairs for her.

Brantley was an official of the Carnation Milk company here and DePass was his assistant.

ORGANIZE CLUBS TO BOOST FORD FOR PRESIDENT

Movement Started by Group of Friends and Neighbors

(By the Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 23.—The movement initiated by a small group of Henry Ford's friends and neighbors to make him president of the United States took its first major step forward today in the announcement that "Ford For President Clubs" scattered thruout the country, will be called into conference here December 12, 13 and 14.

Formation of a new national political party with Mr. Ford as its standard bearer was announced as the object of the conference.

Admitting the sponsors of the movement had no assurance from Mr. Ford that he would accept the leadership of the proposed new party William Kronberg, Dearborn Editor and one of the founders of the original Ford Club announced that decision to call the conference was at the insistence of similar organizations thruout the country.

The calling of the December conference was decided upon at a meeting of representatives of three Michigan Ford Clubs held here last night. Resolutions inviting the cooperation of the National Grange, the American Federation of Labor, the farm bureau, the Farmer-Labor party and kindred organizations were adopted by the meeting. Lauding Mr. Ford as representing fully 100 per cent of what American institutions stand for, the formal call for the conference will say:

Call Will Say
"We believe if the American people have the opportunity to elect this man to the presidency of the United States they would do so and we feel they should be given that opportunity."

"We therefore issue a call to all independent, patriotic, American citizens, who believe in the candidacy of Henry Ford as president of the United States," it concludes "to meet in a conference the twelfth day of December at Detroit, to take such steps as may be necessary to nominate and elect him president of the United States."

According to Mr. Kronberg the conference described as an "organization meeting" will attract at least 3,000 delegates and visitors, representing Ford Clubs in virtually every state. He estimated the number of Ford-For-President Clubs scattered thruout the country at between 300 and 400.

Judge Edward J. Jefferies of the recorder's court at Detroit who drafted the resolutions adopted at last night's meeting is a Democrat and was once Farmer-Labor candidate for governor of Michigan. He presided as chairman of the meeting.

He told the meeting that to obtain Mr. Ford's nomination in the Republican or Democratic conventions would be "difficult indeed." Sure "success" he asserted, "lies only in the formation of a third party—and that speedily."

A proposal that steps be taken to obtain Mr. Ford's nomination on a prohibition platform was voted down. Mr. Ford could not be reached today for a statement on the action of last night. At his offices however, it was said, he probably would have no statement to make at present.

HIGH SCHOOL HISTORY CLUB MET TUESDAY

The High School History Club held a meeting Tuesday evening after school. The feature of the evening was an address by Miss Elizabeth Peck of the Illinois College faculty. Miss Peck has been in Egypt for some time, and chose as her subject "Modern Egypt."

She spoke briefly of the life of the two principal classes in Egypt the agriculturists, or peasants, and the aristocratic Mohammedans.

The education of the Egyptians was discussed and their method of considering an educated person as one who had memorized the Koran. This is one of the chief causes for Egypt's backward development, and until a change is made in education, Egypt will not develop rapidly.

The History Club is planning to have several more speakers from outside the school as the year advances.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Journal:
Some have thought of the coming vote on the tuberculosis sanatorium as largely an economic question. Others have maintained that as a matter of pride in past achievements in anti-tuberculosis work and in hopes for the future Morgan county must carry on. Important considerations these are indeed but to my mind they are no more important than certain other public health questions.

The advantages of sanatorium care for the tuberculous have been mentioned in the campaign but have not always been stressed from the curative standpoint. The educational feature is one of the most important, the absorption by the individual of the knowledge of how to live, the cultivation of the habit of cheerfulness, the instruction and the care necessary to protect himself and to protect others. These are features of hospitalization, for almost every type of sickness but particularly do they apply to the more chronic situations such as tuberculosis.

Propaganda, yes but propaganda of the right sort. If carried out over a period of years it will tend to eliminate the careless consumptive who is a menace to our children. This is done by offering him care and treatment in a stage when he is amenable to instruction, by helping him when his active infection may be rendered inactive and thus restore some or all of his working ability and free him from the economic dependency which is part of the fate of the actively tuberculous.

Then by being sent out in an inactive case he in turn can be a propagandist for health, health in the individual, in the home, in the community for it is a fact that a "successful graduate" of such an institution is a propagandist for health.

This is not too much to hope for. A vote of "No" on this proposition November 6 will pave the way for such a development.

Respectfully,
Frank Garm Norbury,
October 23, 1923.

VISIT DANVILLE SOLDIERS' HOME

G. A. R. Committee Makes Report to State Commander—Conditions Very Satisfactory.

Each year a committee from the G. A. R. makes a visit of inspection to the Soldiers Home at Danville. This year as has been true in some previous years L. Goheen was a member of the committee.

The report is transmitted to the Commander is as follows:

The committee appointed by the Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic to inspect the National Soldiers and Sailors Home met at the Governor's office of the Danville Branch of the National Home at ten o'clock October 8, 1923, and organized J. G. Onlson, Chairman, elected J. P. Bailey, Sec., and then first visited the Hospital, and found everything in first class condition. Next we visited the Quarter Master's Department and found an ample supply of everything necessary for the comfort of the Home. Then we visited the Barracks and found them in a fine sanitary condition. Then we went to the Mess Hall and thoroughly inspected the supply of provisions and found them in first class condition, and an ample supply on hand. We then ate our dinner and proceeded to the Governor's Office and finished our inspection.

TURNIPS

Use the homely root vegetables provided by nature for winter instead of demanding shipped out-of-season delicacies.

Of course if turnips and parsnips and carrots are simply boiled and thrown on the table with an eat-me-if-you-must attitude the family will more than likely become difficult and unmanageable and the poor turnips will be so much waste.

But is the same care and interest goes into the dish of carrots that went into the hot-house asparagus you will have just as delectable a vegetable, adding more food value to the autumn diet for less money.

In planning meals always keep in mind that the food in season is the food needed for the building up and preserving of the body tissues. Mother Nature is most canny and as the seasons change and the diet includes hearty meats she provides coarse, bulky vegetables full of mineral salts necessary for healthy bodies.

Try turnips cooked according to these rules and you won't sigh over the passing of the green peas and asparagus of summer.

Delicious Turnips
Three cups turnips, 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup second stock, 2 cups milk, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 1 egg, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, buttered crumbs.

Choose small white turnips. Pare and cut in quarters enough to make three cups. Let stand in cold water to which one tablespoon lemon juice has been added for three-quarters of an hour. Drop into boiling salted water and cook until three-fourths done. Drain. Melt two tablespoons butter in a shallow sauce pan, add turnips and shake over the fire for two or three minutes. Add stock heated to the boiling point or if stock is not at hand, boiling water. Simmer until tender. Drain and turn into a well buttered baking dish. Melt one tablespoon butter, stir in flour, making a perfectly smooth mixture, slowly add milk stirring constantly. When butter and flour are blended add the onion. Let remain in the sauce until finished. Season with salt and paprika. Remove from fire and add egg, slightly beaten. Remove onion. Add eight of 10 tiny pieces of lemon free from white skin or membrane. The lemon pieces should not be any larger than a pea. Add parsley. Pour sauce over turnips, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven until crumbs are brown.

This looks like a long, complicated rule, but it simmers down to parboiling the turnips, covering with the sauce and buttered crumbs and baking.

Baked Turnips
Four smooth medium-sized turnips, 1 small onion, 1-2 cup cold chopped meat, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 green pepper, bread crumbs.

Pare turnips. Cut a slice from top of each and scoop out as much of the inside as possible, leaving a shell about one-quarter inch thick. Sprinkle salt, pepper and a little lemon juice in each turnip and let stand while preparing the filling.

Peel and mince onion. Melt butter, add onion and cook until a bright straw color. Add meat and mix thoroughly. Sift over flour and stir well. Add milk, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients. The pepper should be dipped in boiling water, and the thin outer skin removed, then finely minced. Put turnips with mixture. Cover with crumbs dot with bits of butter and arrange in a shallow pan. Pour over boiling water to almost cover turnips, cover the dish and bake an hour in a moderate oven.

LEGISLATURE IMPEACHES GOVERNOR J. C. WALTON
The vote on the impeachment charges in the house came unexpectedly late in the day. After most of the session had been devoted to reading testimony taken by the investigation committee and one effort to suspend the oral presentation, had been voted down, the house suddenly changed its course, cut off the reading and plunged into consideration of the second article in the impeachment bill. Consideration of Article 3 followed at once.

Article Two
Article 2, the second of 22 specific charges against the governor made in the committee report was approved without discussion by the house. It alleged that Governor Walton had diverted state funds to his own use by placing his private chauffeur on the state health department payroll.

A brief debate preceded adoption of Article 3 which charged the governor with an offense against the assembly by dispersing the assembly of the lower house by the state militia. Each of the charges constituting sufficient grounds upon which to arraign the governor before an impeachment court, they were submitted separately to the senate as bills of impeachment as soon as the house had acted.

Testimony that of Dr. E. T. Bynum who was at different times executive counsel and state bank examiner; Aldrich Blake, counselor who succeeded Bynum and who was, like him, deposed; Buck Garrett, former sheriff of Carter county and recently a personal body guard to the executive and Colonel Zach Mulhall, wealthy cattle man and personal friend of the governor.

Bynum told the committee he believed his removal from office as bank commissioner resulted from his refusal to appoint an incompetent man as his assistant at the orders of the governor.

Bynum said he was called before the executive who told him "that staff won't get by with me. I have five friends you have got to take care of."

Blake's testimony at his second appearance before the committee dealt with the governor's alleged use of state department mavericks to accommodate his friends. The former executive counselor told the committee that on one occasion, while the governor was out of the city he had discharged 29 employees of the state highway department, who had been added to the payroll, because there were no funds from which they legally could be paid.

LETTER FROM STATE WELFARE WORKER
At the recent community dinner held in the interest of Oak Lawn sanatorium and anti-tuberculosis work in the county, W. R. Turnbull a member of the sanatorium board, read the following letter he had received from Mrs. Jean Comerford a representative of the department of public welfare.

Mr. Turnbull said that he had known nothing of Mrs. Comerford's intention to visit the sanatorium and had not asked for the letter.

"My Dear Mr. Turnbull:

"Before leaving Jacksonville I cannot refrain from letting you know how glad I was to see your county tuberculosis sanatorium. I live very near the Windell T. B. sanatorium, which is doing good work in its field and so have grown into a habit of finding out everything I can about the treatment of the disease in various localities.

"Save one or two in the mountains. I have not encountered a T. B. sanatorium in so beautiful a place. Nor have I ever found greater cleanliness, better housekeeping or happier patients.

"One young girl who was resting on the porch told me that her gain in weight the week before had been two pounds and three ounces. She added:

"This place is truly a life saver to people around here."

"That was a great deal to say. One so often finds patients uttering complaints!

"Just from habit, as there was no one in the kitchen, I dove into it, to see how it was kept. Cleanliness and beautiful surroundings mean so much to tubercular patients. Content means willingness to wait for results, and at best, healing tuberculosis is slow work.

"I wish there were more places as clean and well managed as your Oak Lawn hospital.

"May your good work go on indefinitely.

"Cordially,
"(Mrs.) Jean Comerford," Institutional Visitor, Department of Welfare, State of Illinois."

Miss Wood Honored at I. S. D. Teachers Reception

The annual reception for teachers of the State School for the Deaf was given Tuesday night by Col. and Mrs. O. C. Smith. Extensive preparations had been made for the event and the rooms at the disposal of the company had been decorated with golden tones secured in a very effective way with flowers and autumn leaves. There were also potted plants and the effect was very artistic.

The "golden" color scheme was used because the occasion was in special honor of the 50th anniversary of Miss Frances Wood as a member of the faculty of the school. Miss Wood began her teaching work when the late C. P. Gillett was superintendent, and has continued her connection with the school during all the succeeding years, a part of the time as principal and the remainder as a teacher.

Recalling these facts and giving emphasis to Miss Woods' faithfulness and ability in her chosen work, Col. Smith on behalf of the teachers presented her with a diamond pendant and a bouquet of beautiful roses. This part of the program came as a complete and delightful surprise to Miss Wood, who responded in an appreciative way. Miss Wood feelingly expressed her appreciation and said that she had continued in the work through the long period of years both because of good health and her real interest in the work.

Col. and Mrs. Smith had overlooked nothing in their preparation and the occasion was in every way delightful. Mrs. Smith was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Lillian Welsh, Miss Grace Hasenstab and Miss Ida Strupp.

Entertained Household Science Club

Mrs. Homer L. Wood entertained the members of the Household Science club yesterday afternoon at the home of her mother.

WOODSON NOW USING NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

The new school building which has recently been erected in Woodson was used Tuesday for the first time, the building having been completed within the last few days. This modern school house replaces the old one which was destroyed by fire a number of months ago, and is one in which the Woodson community may well take pride.

The new building is of brick and contains three rooms, a large assembly room and two smaller school rooms. The school sessions have been held in the Colton hall since the old building was destroyed, and the pupils and teachers are finding their spacious new quarters very much to their liking.

The formal dedication of the new school is to be held at no distant date, the Parent-Teacher association already having plans well under way for this affair. A chicken pie supper is to be given by the association Friday evening at the Christian church, the proceeds of which will be used for the purpose of seats for the assembly room in the new building.

SONG RECITAL AT NORTHMINSTER CHURCH

Delightful Program Given by Mr. Garnett Hedge, Head of the Conservatory Voice Department.

The musical season has opened in Jacksonville. When September sets in, and the various schools and colleges have begun their year's work, the concerts and recitals attract the musical public, eager for a taste of the enjoyment of which they are, for the most part, deprived thru the summer vacation. Last evening in Northminster church the first public recital of the Conservatory took place. Mr. Garnett Hedge, tenor, head of the voice department of the Conservatory, gave an evening of song, bringing before a large audience of Jacksonville music lovers and students a program of excellent quality and strong appeal.

Mr. Hedge cannot be called a newcomer in Jacksonville, for he has appeared here twice before, but it has been some years since he made his bow to the public here, and many who were present last evening were hearing him for the first time. He has already, in the short time that he has made his residence among us, acquired many friends and admirers of his art, and has proved his unusual capabilities as a choir leader and chorus conductor. His program of song was looked forward to with interest by many, and his reception attested the sincere pleasure his hearers had from his offerings, all of musical worth yet pleasing in character.

The singer made a favorable impression before he began his program, by his excellent stage manner and pleasing appearance. His first number, the difficult Handel Recitative and Aria from "Judas Maccabeus," revealed him as a master of the oratorio style and impressed his hearers with his sincere devotion to his art. In the three songs of the next group he brought forward a great variety of musical expression, making particularly poignant the masterly Nevin song, "My Desire."

The Scotch and Irish group was delightful, especially the "Lassie W' the Lint Locks," dedicated to Mr. Hedge. It was a pleasure to hear the German songs—as well as the Italian Aria—given in their proper tongue, particularly as the singer's enunciation and pronunciation were so good.

The dark color of the "Legend of the Mad Tulch" was well sustained, and the "Empty Arms" made a quick appeal, delivered as it was with sincere emotion. The two Schneider songs were charming and pleasingly contrasted, while the Hammond "Recompence" brought a rousing climax to a delightful evening of vocal music. Mr. Hedge responded to long-continued applause with a short and merry song by Hawley. His failure to make more additions to his program—additions which would have been welcome to the audience—was comprehensible, considering the strain put upon the singer by his daily work and his choir and chorus conducting. His voice, however, needed no apologies, as it was fresh and well under control thruout the evening.

The accompaniments of Miss Alexander deserve particular mention. They were always sympathetic, accurate and thoroughly musical.

The next musical event from the Conservatory will be the piano recital given by Miss Elizabeth Peck on Friday evening, November 2nd, in Recital Hall.

Many have made a guess at the age of the Cozy Glow Kid. Have you?

COLLEGE PRESIDENT TALKS TO MINISTERS

Dr. J. W. Davidson of Wesleyan is Speaker at District Conference — Says Church Must Redeem Lost Life.

The church, to earn its right to the esteem of this generation, must not neglect the lost adult life of today. This was a significant statement in the address of Dr. J. W. Davidson, president of Illinois Wesleyan University, delivered last night at the Methodist district conference in Grace church. The speaker's theme was "The Church in the Life of Today." He was heard attentively by a fair-sized audience, composed of ministers and laymen from churches of the district and a goodly number of local residents.

Dr. Davidson spoke of modern life as materialistic and filled with pessimism. Anything which can stem this tide will be beneficial to the life of today. The church, the speaker stated, works in two directions in its effort upon modern life, that of worship and that of instruction. There is something helpful to us in worshipping with others. It checks our egotism, it prevents our motives and ideas from becoming secularized, it tempers our estimates of our fellow men when we see them engaging in worship with us and singing and acting in a religious manner. Worship with others gives inspiration.

One great work of the church of today is instruction in righteousness, individual and social. At this point the speaker referred to the lost adult life, saying that there is a lot of it in the world today. It has been noticed that the ages of power for the church have been ages of instruction, ages when sermons were filled with information and help to their hearers.

The speaker gave his audience a definition of Christianity, which seems worthy of mention. He said, "Christianity is eternal life in the midst of time by the strength and under the eyes of God."

The conference program for yesterday was carried out according to schedule, under direction of the district superintendent, Mr. A. S. Chapman. The conference will close at noon today. The final session will begin at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

WHITE HALL MAN AT HEAD OF BIG CONCERN

C. B. Stahl Now President of White Hall Sewer Pipe & Stoneware Co.—Other News Notes from White Hall

White Hall, Oct. 22.—From mould runner at 35 cents per day to the presidency of a million dollar manufacturing concern is the record of Carlton B. Stahl, following the action of the directors of the White Hall Sewer Pipe & Stoneware Co., last week that restores complete control to White Hall after nearly ten years of absentee management and executive direction in more or less degree. With the advancement of Mr. Stahl three other White Hall young men figure in advancement that completely sets aside the contention of some that our public schools are maintained at local expense for the sole purpose of fitting our young people for service to other communities. These four young men are now in complete control of the management of the largest clay works in the Illinois valley. They are: President, C. B. Stahl; first vice president, H. O. Tunison; secretary-treasurer, Henry W. Shirley; member of the board of directors, H. W. Galhuly. The second vice presidency goes to Gustav Bischoff, Junior of St. Louis, whose father held the presidency at the time of his death a few weeks ago.

Twenty-four years ago, following his graduation from the White Hall high school and a subsequent course in Brown's Business college at Jacksonville, C. B. Stahl was called by H. C. Morrow to serve as office boy in the old White Hall Fire Clay Works, Stahl having been working for a short time as mould runner at 35 cents a day when the offer came from Mr. Morrow. Mr. Stahl has remained with the works since that time. He was advanced to stenographer to succeed A. E. Knight. The works were destroyed by fire on March 26, 1903, and on July 1, 1903, came the re-organization and the erection of a new plant under the name of the White Hall Sewer Pipe & Stoneware Co., thru the activities of Mr. Morrow. In the new epoch in the White Hall clay manufacturing business, the services of Mr. Stahl came to be increasingly in demand, and it was early recognized that upon his shoulders were those dependable qualities of business that could not be swayed by political or other importunities that might detract from a safe and steady course in the making of a great enterprise. When Mr. Morrow retired in January, 1914, and was succeeded to the presidency by F. H. W. Krenning of St. Louis, still greater responsibility of management fell upon the shoulders of the one who in the meantime had become secretary of the company, while Mr. Krenning concerned himself with financial matters, a combination that relieved the company of an indebtedness of $200,000 and placed it upon a solid financial basis, from which it has not wavered through the trying years of war and industrial disturbance, and during which period the new president proved a tower of strength in combating the forces bent on the destruction of the industrial life of the community and the nation.

Five years ago Mr. Krenning died, and his successor to the presidency was Gustav Bischoff, Senior, of St. Louis. At this time Mr. Stahl was made general manager in addition to secretary, and Mr. Shirley was made assistant secretary, succeeding E. C. Pearce while Mr. Galhuly left the office to take the foremanship of the stoneware department. This was a period that required great fortitude and courage in keeping together an industrial organization, and he said to the credit of Mr. Stahl that during his incumbency as general manager greater consideration has never been shown to the employees of the concern, both as to wages and conditions of employment. Various forms of conveniences have been provided, including a system of shower baths that alone has received the unstinted praise of the men. It was observed that this concern, with a payroll of conservatively one thousand dollars per day, were denied a certain drainage request for these improvements which later were granted with a whoop and shout to a new concern paying out about one hundred dollars per day.

So reads the story of the development of a White Hall enterprise that today stands at a million dollars, with a pay roll of one thousand dollars per day and more. And it is this quartet of White Hall boys who were instrumental in this achievement being brought about. Mr. Galhuly became identified with it at the time of the re-organization in 1904 and Mr. Shirley in 1905, but Galhuly's later leaving the office left the succession to the secretaryship to Mr. Shirley, which had the full approval of Mr. Galhuly. Mr. Tunison has been vice president since the re-organization in 1903-04.

It is well to briefly call attention to the standing of White Hall in the clay manufacturing world. What has already been said is by way of good word for those who have been the means of expanding and maintaining this reputation of White Hall. The first ware to be made and burned in White Hall was by one William Heath in 1826, and he was succeeded by John N. Ebey in 1833. The best artisans in the clay-working field have been developed at White Hall, generation after generation, and there are nowhere in the country more efficient clay workers. White Hall has furnished the best clay workers to other points that later developed a clay manufacturing business, including kiln burners and all kindred lines. The largest jug ever made in the world was made in White Hall by Vermillions at their pottery, in which J. O. Brooks, W. G. Hill and the late J. S. Pierce had a hand. Its dimensions were 36 inches in diameter and 61 inches high. Something of a pottery was made at the Ruckel at the time, which is still an ornament on top of the Ruckel office building. The capacity of the original jug was 175 gallons.

The October session of the brotherhood will be held in the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, dinner being served promptly at 7 o'clock. The speaker will be Judge H. G. Russell of Beardstown, former superintendent of the Greenfield schools, and there will be some special musical numbers. It was hoped that it would be possible to announce Hon. Charles G. Dawes for the November dinner, but he states that his coming must be set later, as he is entirely engaged until the end of November. In his letter he speaks of his connection with the visit of David Lloyd George to Chicago.

Mrs. J. M. Winters announced today that the rendition of "Susie's Kitchen Cabinet Band" will take place at Greenfield on the 30th inst., for the benefit of the American Legion post of that city. This is a White Hall production that scored a tremendous hit in Princess theater recently as a public library benefit. Mrs. Winters has planned to repeat it at White Hall as a high school benefit Wednesday evening of this week.

CENTENARY CHURCH PROGRAM

A new feature is added to the church night program at Centenary church this week. During the period assigned to study, the children will be gathered into a group which will be entertained by a story-teller. The children and their parents are especially invited to be present for the earlier part of the evening even if they cannot stay for the whole time. Classics, popular stories, folk stories, Bible stories, and instruction-stories will compose the program for this group.

The supper together and the fellowship of the hour are very popular and are proving of great value. The study classes are beginning well, and will be augmented in the near future by the Epworth League classes in missions and Bible. The devotional period is full of enthusiasm and inspiration. The public is invited to all of these meetings and gatherings, and the welcome extended to all who come justifies the characterization of Centenary as the church where the folks are glad to see you.

MISS SHELTON HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Faith Shelton, a teacher in the first ward school, was injured Sunday in an auto wreck near Chandierville. While enveloped in a dense fog on the river bottoms, the car in which she was riding collided with a machine that was standing at the side of the road. Miss Shelton had one finger dislocated, and suffered a number of minor bruises about the body.

She is now at the home of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Ludwig, on South Clay avenue, and will be able to resume her work in the schoolroom in a few days.

CITIZENSHIP SCHOOL OPENS AT URBANA

Illinois League of Women Voters Co-Operates With University of Illinois in Conducting Citizenship School

The Illinois League of Women Voters is holding a school of citizenship in co-operation with the University of Illinois in Room 113 in the Woman's Building, Urbana-Champaign Tuesday, Oct. 30 to Friday, Oct. 30.

Dr. Grace Dewey, the president of the Morgan county branch of the Illinois League, and Mrs. Craig of Woodson, are planning to attend the school. The local league will also have an official delegate representing it at the school. The program is a very interesting and instructive one and will no doubt offer a large drawing card for women from all over the state to attend and inform themselves of civic matters.

The trend since the advent of women in the political arena is education, education, and education. That educators approve the trend is evidenced by the splendid co-operation given by professors of colleges and universities; that politicians approve is evidenced by the establishing of schools for the disseminating of education among the women of the various parties with the interpretation of that party's ideas of the questions at issue.

The program and arrangements for this school are by a joint committee for the University of Illinois, Professor James W. Garner, chairman; for the Illinois League of Women Voters, Miss Julia C. Lathrop, president, and Mrs. May Wood-Simons, chairman.

IOWAN RANKS HIGH IN EASTERN SCHOOL

Receives Highest Grade Possible in Studies at Harvard—Regular Member of Football Squad.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(By the A. P.)—Athletes in scholastic difficulties have always been the bane of the college coaches' lives, but there is a man on the Harvard squad this season who gives Coach Fisher no concern on that score. Henry T. Dunker of Davenport, Iowa, who started the Yale football game last year as tackle, in the nine study courses of his first two years, received the grade of A, the highest mark according to the Harvard system.

Coming to Harvard with no preparatory school experience in football, Dunker decided to try for his freshman team, and made it. He also went out for the track team, running on the relay four in the winter and putting the shot in the spring. He was elected captain. During his first year he received five A's in his courses.

Starting his sophomore year with the ambition of getting on the first football squad, Dunker exceeded his own hopes by making the varsity team as tackle and winning second place in the annual meet with the Elis. His marks in his four courses were again the highest obtainable. Last summer he went to England on the combined Harvard-Yale track team to meet Oxford-Cambridge team.

This, his junior year, he stands as a veteran tackle sure of his place on the varsity eleven.

FRANCE IS PROUD OF HER TENNIS RECORD

Paris.—(By A. P.)—There were 18,720 players entered and 14,123 actually took part in the popular tennis tournament organized thru out France by the French Tennis Federation during the season just closed. Several promising youngsters were uncovered who, with a few years more practice, may develop into Davis Cup timber.

The French are very proud of the development of tennis in France of recent years. It is pointed out that for the Davis Cup matches in 1921, 1922 and 1923, they have put on the courts an entirely different team each year. It is a common saying in France that if the Davis Cup matches were played six men to a side, French tennis would have a chance.

MACK SAYS RUEL'S BEST IN BIG TOP

Philadelphia.—Connie Mack, famous leader of the Athletics, regards Muddy Ruel of Washington as the best catcher in the major leagues on the form shown in 1923. That is some compliment for a catcher who for a half dozen years has floundered about as the second string catcher on the New York and Boston clubs in the American League.

When Ruel was secured by Washington he got a chance to work regularly, sharing the catching with Eddie Gharrity. Then an injury to Gharrity caused practically all the catching to fall on Ruel. While Ruel is rather slight for a catcher he has thrived on regular work and has finally come into his own, reached the pinnacle of stardom as a big leaguer.

"Ruel is the best catcher in either major league this year," says Mack. "He has handled his pitchers in fine style and has been a terror at the bat. In addition he is tireless, the type of catcher that makes every player on his club perk up. Ruel, in my way of thinking, is easily the best catcher of the year in every department of play."

GRANT, FORMER COAST CHAMP, WINS ABROAD

London.—Another American has attained to golf distinction in England. Douglas Grant, formerly amateur champion of California, recently won the West of England championship from a high class competitive field. Grant drew Sidney Frey a high ranking player, in the finals and trimmed him 4 to 3. Grant played splendidly throughout the tournament and his game reached heights of actual brilliancy in the 36-holes finals. On the greens the American was superb and seldom failed to hole out in the customary two putts.

DISCOURSE ON SPORTS BY A NOTED REFEREE

Col. Hackett Addresses Joint Luncheon—Guests from U. of M., U. of I. at Hamilton Club

CHICAGO. (By the A. P.)—Some of the things a football official sees in a game were described recently by Col. Horatio B. Hackett (Army), one of the best known referees in the country, before a joint luncheon of the University of Michigan and University of Illinois alumni at the Hamilton club.

"In a discussion on officials," Col. Hackett said, "a prominent football coach remarked that spectators didn't go to football games to see officials call fouls."

"I have since wondered if that same coach stopped to think what proper officiating has done, not only for football, but for basketball, baseball, tennis and other sports as well. The modern football game is handled on a basis of efficiency, which would do credit to almost any profession. The officials know their rules, and the game is handled in a business like manner, which eliminates arguments, delays and injuries and gives to the spectator the fullest enjoyment of the game."

The Officials Chosen
"Football officials, the important games, are carefully chosen by the coaches, not because of their reputation as players, but because of a reputation for decision, honesty, fairness and ability gained thru many years of practical work as officials in large and important games."

"A knowledge of the rule does not always indicate an ability to apply them, because the official has not much time to think during the progress of the game. Decisions must be made on the instant and without hesitation, if the confidence of the players, coaches and spectators is to be retained. Hesitation or change of mind, on the part of an official, always leaves a doubt in the minds of the players of both teams and sometimes gives them an excuse for blaming the loss of the game on poor officiating."

"One must always keep in sight of this fact, in watching a football game, that it is the players who commit the fouls, and that they are responsible for the resulting penalties. The official is on the field to see that the game is properly played according to rules, with which the players should be familiar, and it is their duty to report infractions, and apply a penalty which is absolutely determined by the rule book. It very often happens that the penalty is applied at a time when the offending side has just made a long run or has successfully completed a forward pass. To the spectator, it seems unjust to penalize a team at such a time, and it never seems to occur to them that perhaps it was because of the foul that the gain was made."

Plays That Worry
"Trick plays and peculiar formations are, of course, the things that worry an official during a game. The coaches spend a lot of time between football seasons, originating and perfecting trick plays and funny formations, which are designed to catch unawares and fool eleven men on the opposing team. A trick play depends for success upon the element of surprise. It is sprung unexpectedly, at an opportune moment of the game and, of course, comes without warning to the opposing team or to the official. It is not surprising, therefore, that it is just as likely to fool the official as it is the eleven men on the opposing team.

"Very often a coach will explain to the referee before the game the trick plays or formations he intends to use. Other coaches fail to do this and afterwards condemn the official because in the midst of a game he rules illegal a complicated trick play or formation which, when explained afterwards, proved to be all right. Sometimes the formation or play is so doubtful that the coach has spent weeks writing to Walter Camp or other authorities to make sure that he is not violating the rules, and yet that same coach will expect the referee to make the decision on the same play, in the very thick of a game, with only a moment's time to think. An explanation before the game would have prevented any mistake on the part of the official and would certainly have been more fair to him."

The Many Difficulties
"The next time you look at a football game, remember that the official is working not only physically, but mentally as well, and do not forget that from your comfortable stationary position in the stand, you are looking down upon the entire 22 players, while the official, probably running at full speed and dodging players, is handicapped by the fact that he cannot see all the players at the same time. But you can guarantee this. He will call the fouls he sees, no matter whether the team is in the middle of the field or the five yard line, and he will pretty nearly succeed in catching these fouls which have a direct bearing upon the play. Therefore, instead of knocking him, give him a hand once in a while, as they say in the 'Rise of Rosy O'Reilly.'"

AND BLAMED IF HE DIDN'T COME RIGHT ON OVER

Cleveland, O.—Iola Huffman, one of the greatest tacklers in the history of football at Ohio State University, is playing professional football here this fall. Followers of football recall how Huffman talked Chicago out of an important game in the Western Conference several years back.

On the Chicago team at the time was McGuire, another great tackler. Chicago had just come through a game with Princeton triumphantly, a game in which McGuire distinguished himself by outplaying Stanley Keck of All-America fame.

Near the close of the game between Ohio and Chicago, with the two teams apparently in a hopeless deadlock, Huffman suddenly barked at McGuire in this fashion: "So you are the great McGuire, huh? You are the man who stopped Keck. Well, see if you can stop Myers. He's coming through you on the next play for a touchdown."

Whether McGuire thought he was being spoofed or was taken completely off his guard by the audacity of the maneuver will probably never be known. But Myers took the ball on the next play and charged right down over McGuire for the touchdown that won the game.

GLOOM BEARERS AT OLD PENNSY

TOP—COACH YOUNG
BOTTOM—CAPTAIN HAMER

The biggest football upset of the early season was the defeat of the supposedly rejuvenated Pennsylvania eleven by Maryland.

This year Pennsy started out on a new football footing, with a new coach in charge and a new system in vogue. Coach Young replaced Coach Heisman and expectations ran high. In Tex Hamer, captain, Pennsy was said to have one of the finest

LEONARD HAS IT EASY AS CHAMPION

By NEA Service.
PHILADELPHIA.—There is an old saw about present-day pugilists that says:

"They aren't like they used to be," or words to that effect. And it evidently hits the nail on the head, too.

For instance take the lightweight division, past and present. In the old days Lavigne, Erne, Gans, Nelson, Britt, Wolgast were the top notches among the 133-pounders. They were real fighters. They fought often, not 10-round no decision dancing affairs, either, but 20, 25 rounds, and finish fights.

Consider the ring career of Battling Nelson, one of the greatest lightweights of history. Nelson fought 'em all, white or black. And he took them over the long route as well. More than once he stepped into the ring in what was scheduled as a "fight to the finish." A tough assignment for any pugilist.

From 1904 to 1910, when the Duce was in his prime, he engaged in more "marathon" fights than any lightweight in history. During that period he tackled Britt four times, three going 20 rounds, and the other 18; he had three bouts with Gans, 18, 21 and 42 rounds; he also went 23 sessions with Hyland; 40 with Wolgast, and 29 with Herrera, hard-hitting Mexican.

Now, in fighting contrast, let's take a glance at Benny Leonard, present lightweight champion. A good man, to be sure. A real boxer, a hard puncher, quick thinker, clever, smart shrewd. In a word a worthy title-holder.

But his record doesn't begin to compare with that hung up by Nelson. True, Leonard has been in many fights since he won the crown. He has fought often, inspirational leaders in the east. Maryland was not looked on as a particularly formidable foe. The southerners, however, proved to be extremely tough and gave the new Pennsy regime its first black eye, scoring a 3-0 victory.

more often than most of the champions of other divisions. But practically all of his bouts have been of 10 rounds and under. He has yet to engage in a battle over the long route. Mayhap he could it he couldn't.

And here's another point. Not only did Nelson fight long, grueling fights, where stamina played a tremendous part, where victory often deprived an ability to outlast an opponent, but he met a class of pugilists which the present-day lightweight division cannot show. And that's a mighty big item.

Where would Lew Tendler, Willie Jackson, Charlie White the Mitchell boys, and the rest of them come in against those "rough fellows" of bygone days?

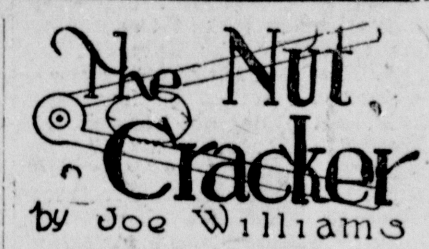

WAGNER, WINNER OVER DUDEE, TO BOX PAL

New York.—Pal Moran, who recently eliminated the veteran Charley White from the lightweight picture, has signed to meet Eddie "Kid" Wagner in an eight rounder at Philadelphia in November. In Wagner Moran will not be meeting a setup and he will have to be in good shape to win. Wagner some weeks ago gave Johnny Dundee a decisive beating. He is not a great boxer, but a trouble maker to champs and near-champs. Moran, on the strength of his knockout win over White, is now working up to a title scrap with Benny Leonard.

TO HOLD HOMECOMING AT AUGUSTA COLLEGE

Moline.—Celebration attending this year's homecoming at Augusta college, which has been set for November 2 to 6, will start with the Augusta Millikin football game and end with the official installation of Dr. G. A. Brande as president of the Lutheran synod. Between these two events will be others of importance, including the visit and sermon of Archbishop Nathan Soderblom, and the dedication of the Augustana seminary buildings, recently completed, at which the archbishop will be the chief speaker.

Dr. J. W. Eckman was a professional caller here from Winchester Tuesday.

So Firpo couldn't beat that board bill in Havana? Isn't there anything the senior can beat? Burman charges Lynch ran out on him. But then footwork has always been an essential quality in a champion's make up.

Los Angeles breeder has produced a red, white and blue rooster. That is something to crow about.

A 300-pound cheese is on display in Kansas. Planning a home-coming for Jess Willard, we suppose.

Headline chirps "Comiskey won't sell Sox." Isn't this a rather delicate subject to discuss in the papers?

Seven football fatalities recorded, since the football season opened, thereby proving that all the elements of danger have been entirely eliminated.

Two of the Shade brothers were whipped the same night. You might say—if you cared to say anything—that is was curtains for them.

If it is true that soccer is the oldest game known to man then the gentle pastime of tossing the ball must to a close second.

Herb Penneck is going to open a silver fox farm. Mr. McGraw, no doubt, would prefer to interest him in the civet cat business.

It is said that Huggins was overcome with emotion when "his boys" presented him with a diamond ring. If his memory extended to last year he must have broke right down and guffawed.

The Essence of Real Brotherhood

Speaking editorially, under the caption, "A Hopeful Incident," the Beacon of Wichita, Kansas, in its issue of September 18, says:

"The banquet of the Industrial Relations Organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), reported in yesterday's Beacon, is a fine incident of the growing friendship in industrial relations."

"The most encouraging thing that is happening today in the industrial life of this country is in the new programs of co-operation that are being established between themselves and their employees by great employers. The best industrial plants in the country today are finding their own points of contact with their own men."

"In these new points of contact they are finding the base of that essence of real brotherhood that should exist between the man who labors and the man who employs. This new tendency is the most hopeful thing in the industrial life of America today."

The banquet referred to concluded the Fifth Annual Industrial Conference of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) inaugurated under the guidance of the Board of Directors.

The Industrial Relations Department of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is the crystallization of the plans of the Management for giving its employees a voice in the affairs of the Company, that they might sense the sheer joy that comes with independence, and thereby become better citizens, better husbands, better fathers, and better workmen.

The employee representatives of the Joint General Committee are elected by ballot of the employees. This Committee makes recommendations to the Management on matters pertaining to working and living conditions, hours, wages, safety, housing, athletics and other subjects of immediate interest to the employee.

Out of the 1400 cases which have been submitted to the Management by the Joint General Committees, 93.3% have been approved and made effective.

This exemplifies the spirit of fairness inherent throughout the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) organization.

It is an eloquent manifestation of the harmony prevailing throughout this shirt-sleeved organization of 27,000 men and women.

Through harmony is gained the whole-hearted, earnest effort which results in high-speed efficiency. This efficiency has made the Company a leader in the petroleum industry and enables it to render such a superior service to the thirty million people of the Middle West.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Stock prices generally failed to give any indication of a definite trend in today's quiet market, most issues floundering irregularly within a narrow trading area.

Renewed weakness of Sterling exchange which carried it down to another new low level for the year had a depressing effect on sentiment but its effect on stock prices as generally held to be negligible. The financial community however, is paying close attention to European cables which have formed the major topic of morning conferences in some of the largest banks.

Fluctuations in stock prices continue to reflect the play of opposing speculative forces. Fresh weakness cropped out again today in the rubber and leather issues most of which fell to new low record for the year and in new special stocks, such as American Sugar, Famous Players and International Paper which also sold at the year's minimum prices.

Stocks of mail order houses, chain stores and tobacco companies were in good demand during most of the session. Woolworth,
Kresge, May Department Stores and General Baking soaring to new high records for the year.

Discriminating purchases also took place in other parts of the list. The whole market improved in the last hour on rather active short covering in Baldwin, American Can and U. S. Steel all of which closed fractionally higher.

Renewal of the operations of the U. S. government sinking fund and some buying attributed to British sources gave the liberty bonds a better tone, all of the active issues recording small gains.
Total bond sales (par value)
$9,002,000.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET

The Morgan county branch of the Illinois League of Women Voters will hold its October meeting at Academy Hall at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, October 29. All women are invited to this meeting when they will be given an opportunity to hear discussed the pros and cons of the tuberculosis sanatorium, and candidates for election will appear on the program. Mrs. W. W. Ramsey of Chicago, will also give an address. The League of Women Voters advocates education, and conducts open forums where not only one party's views are discussed, but all parties may present their interpretation of the matter in hand, leaving the public to form their own opinions. Members of the league are asked to secure two new members for the league and bring them to the meeting.

Wonderful Results

Have Been Attained by Keeping a Car Properly Lubricated.

The essential difference between an old car and a new car is the amount of wear that has taken place in the old car. Every mechanical wearing place of any importance in any automobile is provided with some means of lubrication. This shows that the factory who made the car recognized the importance of lubrication.

The cost of lubrication is about 2 per cent of the cost of new parts. Are you anxious to increase your operating cost 98 per cent?

Tuberculosis	25487.76

There has been paid into the treasury of the sanatorium $8,363.06. Of this the U. S. government paid $4448.00. Scott county $73.71. Greene county $64.00. Hogs sold, etc. $274.35. The county home farm has returned an income in cash of $6,792.97 and has more than $1,000 worth of grain and stock to sell.

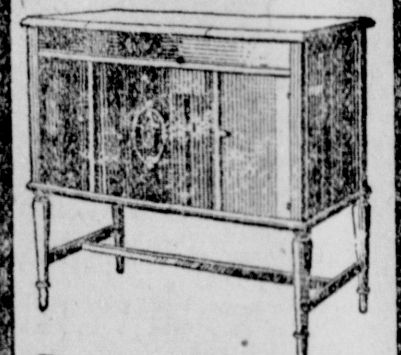

Regarding the income of the county and its expenditures the figures will speak for themselves. I am not here with any brief for the county board, but to tell some facts. The debt of the county or sum needed for anticipated warrants has been reduced under the management of the present board from $20,000 to $5,000. The county home used to cost $12,000 a year; it now costs $8,101.13. Any and this will be nearly wiped out by the farm income. Of course, the net cost in past years was somewhat reduced the same way but not nearly so much. Some facts and figures are especially called for in the matter of the Tuberculosis sanatorium. The present board of trustees is fearfully handicapped for lack of funds. There is no use raking up the past; it is history well known. There are improvements and betterments sorely needed but cannot be had without cash. The present conditions there are well worthy of examination. The necessary conditions for a tuberculosis patient are:

Plenty of the right kind of food. Pleasant and happy conditions. Open air as much as possible. All the patients out there have to a gratifying degree. Dr. Roberts is remarkably popular with all and manages admirably. The patients are happy and love him and all are well contented. Gross injustice has been done the present county board. The members are just as eager to care for tuberculosis patients as anyone can be, but they cannot perform impossibilities. Their record speaks for itself and it is astonishing that any person would presume to assert that a new board is necessary for the welfare of the sanatorium. The figures submitted will give an idea of the avenues through which the taxes go. It would be well high impossible to fare any of them down while the board has refused a host of expenditures in various ways clamorously demanded by citizens and tax payers.

It is unfortunate that the law requires patients to be admitted free of charge as several are there whose friends could well afford to pay for their keep. The books of the institution are open to the public and may be examined at any time. The expenses are held down as far as is compatible with the welfare of the patients. Various betterments are sorely needed and some are required by law, such as fire escapes, etc. A short time since, Mrs. Comerford, official state inspector, visited the institution, wholly unannounced, and went thru it thoroughly from cellar to garret. She began at the kitchen, inspected the rooms of the patients, the diet, the linen, and in fact everything pertaining to the management of the place, and was unstinted in her praise of the manner in which it is being conducted and yet there are those who would have a new management.

The county board may well be depended upon to do its full duty when the people do theirs and all that is asked is full investigation and not criticism without facts. S. W. Nichols.
